ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Many people have contributed immensely to the level I am in today in life. Some of them challenged and provoked me to take some strategic steps. Others taught, criticized and encouraged me to press forward to the next point.

All of the above have helped me to get to where I am today and I know that the best is yet to come.

I want to thank my childhood friend, Pastor Godwin Okafor for all his contributions. Also to be thanked are Bro. Larry Eguae, Prince Brodrick Ovienloba, Dr. Edith Osiruemu-Odeka, Dr. & Mrs. Efe Asemota and others for editing and typesetting this book.

God will richly bless you.

DEDICATION

I dedicate this book to my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ who saved me from sin and gave me eternal life.

He took me from failure to success, from poverty to prosperity, and from nothing to something, from nobody to somebody.

Introduction

WHO ARE THE ACHIEVERS?

Achievers are men and women who refuse to accept failures that confront them on every side they turn to in life. They rebel against failure.

Achievers break the iron gates between failure and success, and walk into success.

Achievers know that the other side of the coin labeled “failure” is success.

Achievers see failure, taste it and even fail, but they refuse to accept failure. They insist on turning the other side labeled “success”, for that is their goal.

Achievers discourage their discouragement. They are dangerous to dangers.

Achievers see stumbling-blocks as stepping stones on their way to success. They also know that failure is at the entrance gate of success.

Achievers know that “all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose.” They know that every obstacle is a passing phase in life.

Achievers see God perfect in every situation. They know that their tomorrow is better than their yesterday.

Achievers are men and women whose inadequacies and physical handicaps become access roads to favour and success (Lk. 19 Zachaeus). They turn disappointment into God's appointment (Joseph and Jephthah). Achievers reproduce themselves (Elijah and Elisha). They kill every lion on their way to victory (Samson).

Achievers continue even when others have stopped. They work when others are playing. They turn trials into triumphs; their mistakes into miracles. They know that the ridiculous leads to the miraculous.

Achievers turn dis-favour into divine favour. They turn tears into cheers. They turn unfortunate situations into fortunes. They know that weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning.

Achievers know that the night does not last forever.
